① 大雪 森のガーデン Daisetsu Mori-no Garden

Asahigaoka, Daisetsu Highland, A garden painted with the beautiful scenery of the Daisetsuzan mountain range.

Set in a forest on a hill overlooking the Daisetsuzan mountain range. See over 1,000 varieties of colorful perennial plants bloom in full glory. It consists of three areas: the "Forest Flower Garden", the "Forest Guest House" where you can relax surrounded by trees and beautiful mountain wildflowers, and the "Play Forest" where the whole family can enjoy lush greenery. There are also cafes and shops, so adults and children can relax and enjoy themselves.

② 上野ファーム Ueno Farm

A dramatic garden that changes magically with the seasons.

The garden is created with plants that grow in Hokkaido's climate, with flowering periods and vivid colors unique to northern regions, and is centered around perennial plants that bloom throughout the seasons. The garden shop, which sells seedlings and gifts, is also popular. You can climb up to Shatekiyama mountain from the garden, where a field-like garden spreads out on the slope below, and enjoy the rural landscape from the top.

③ 風のガーデン Kaze-no Garden

Stroll the narrow paths while enjoying nature.

This renowned garden was the setting for a famous Japanese TV drama. Surrounded by trees, stroll along the beautiful paths where over 450 types of flowers bloom across three seasons. You can also enjoy the "Rose Garden" and the delicate beauty of older rose varieties, and the "Wildflower Walkway" which somehow feels nostalgic even though it's your first visit.

④ 十勝千年の森 Tokachi Millennium Forest

Four unique gardens overlooking the majestic Hidaka Mountains.

The Hidaka Mountains were recently designated as a National Park. The mature gardens at the foot of these mountains touch visitor's hearts with a scale appropriate to this northern land. Four unique gardens, including the "Earth Garden" with its dynamic grassy hills, and the "Forest Garden" where you discover new ways to enjoy the forest, promote a new garden culture to this northern country.

⑤ 真鍋庭園 Manabe Garden

Experience the depth and maturity of a garden planted more than 50 years ago.

Manabe Garden has been constantly changing and expanding with the times since 1966. Known as Japan's first conifer garden, the current garden covers 80,000 square meters, and consists of a Japanese garden, a Western-style garden, and a Landscape garden. It is the only botanical garden where tree production, design, landscaping, and maintenance are all done in-house. Don't miss the new species of plants that can only be seen here.

⑥ 十勝ヒルズ Tokachi Hills

A spacious and pleasant hilltop garden.

This garden is full of the charms of Tokachi, including clear air and delicious water. Enjoy a fulfilling time in the garden, themed around flowers that change with the seasons, roses, and fruit trees. Have a cup of tea or a meal in the garden café while enjoying the view.

⑦ 紫竹ガーデン Shichiku Garden

Grandma Shichiku's Happy Garden

"I want to be surrounded by flowers all day long." This wish of one woman has led to a 60,000 square meter flower garden. Every time you visit, you'll make a new discovery. Approximately 2,500 kinds of flowers bloom along with the seasons, welcoming your visit. Admire the flowers, respond to their invitation, talk to them. The only question is, which path to take today?

⑧ 六花の森 Rokka-no Mori

See the wildflower forest depicted on Rokkatei's wrapping paper.

The Hokkaido wildflowers depicted on the Rokkatei wrapping paper by mountain artist Naoyuki Sakamoto are in full bloom in the gardens throughout the seasons. The six flowers known as Tokachi Rokka are particularly represented. They add a variety of colors to the park, from the Dogtooth Violets in early spring, to the Siberian Gentian in the fall. The art on display in the gallery, housed in an old Croatian house, is also well worth a visit.

中札内美術村庭園 Rokkatei Art Village

Nakasatsunai Garden

Art forest lined with museums and restaurants.

The garden is renowned for its 100 m long Mountain Maple tunnel. The fresh greenery of spring, the deep green of summer, and the autumn leaves are a must-see. Enjoy differently themed gardens such as the White Garden with Anabelle blossoms in full bloom, and the Formal Garden with its wide variety of flowers. Within the Art Village grounds, Western and Japanese paintings are scattered among the virgin cedar forest to allow you to experience the fusion of nature and art.
